Re: Closure of Charles Schwab Brokerage Account Number [REDACTED]

Dear Mr. Sloane,

When you opened your Charles Schwab account(s) referenced above, you agreed to abide by the terms of the applicable account agreement(s), which permit the closure of the account(s) at any time and for any reason. Charles Schwab is now exercising its right to close the account(s) referenced above effective 06/10/19 ("the closure date").

In order to facilitate the closing process of the Schwab Brokerage account(s), we ask that you meet the deadlines set forth below. Purchases of new account positions will be permitted until 4:00 p.m. (EST) on 05/22/19. After that date, only liquidating (selling/closing) transactions of existing account positions and requests for funds and account transfers will be permitted. No new account purchases of any kind will be permitted. All account assets must be transferred to another institution or withdrawn on or before the closure date. If you plan to transfer your account assets, we encourage you to contact the intended firm and start that process now.

There are two options available to you:

- Engage the services of another broker-dealer or financial services firm, and request a transfer of the Charles Schwab account(s) to that broker-dealer or firm.
- Liquidate all securities in your Charles Schwab account(s), if any, and issue a check or a wire transfer to you for the full amount of your available balance in the account(s).

If any assets remain in the account(s) after the closure date, Charles Schwab reserves the right to transfer the assets to the appropriate Transfer Agent or sell all securities in the account(s) and/or mail a check for the entire account balance to the address of record for the account.

Thank you for your prompt attention to this matter. If you have questions regarding this process, please call 888-787-7674.

Sincerely,

Charles Schwab & Co., Inc.
